EXCERPTS FROM REMARKS PREPARED FOR DELIVERY BY
CLARK MacGREGOR, CAMPAIGN DIRECTOR
COMMITTEE FOR THE RE-ELECTION OF THE PRESIDENT
AT AN AFTERNOON MEETING OF THE
CALIFORNIA REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE
ANAHEIM, CALIFORNIA, SEPTEMBER 30, 1972

Whatever credibility Senator McGovern may once have enjoyed is fast being undermined by the exposure of his rhetorical ambiguities and substantive reversals. A sure vote-loser for McGovern is his repeated tactic of linking the policies of President Nixon to those of Adolf Hitler. And he is constantly backing and filling in political desperation.

Senator McGovern has proposed three different welfare schemes. In fact, his welfare position is getting more and more like the House That Jack Built. The Senator started with a proposal to change the welfare system. He has now come forward with a scheme to replace his plan, to revise his proposal to change the welfare system. I fear that tomorrow we will see a suggestion to amend his scheme, to replace his plan to revise his proposal to change the welfare system.

Just the cost of tracking and analyzing his proposals would, at this rate, be sufficient in itself to require a tax increase. Again, the characteristics of the President's leadership present a dramatic contrast. The President has given constant attention to the implementation of his strategies -- rather than doctoring rhetoric or substance simply to gain political appeal.

Despite the handicap of an obstructive Congress, President Nixon's achievements have been extraordinary.

THIRTY-ONE MAYORS, INCLUDING TEN DEMOCRATS, ATTACK MC GOVERN'S URBAN POLICY

Senator McGovern's sudden interest in the problems of America's cities would be gratifying if his statements on the subject were not characterized by the usual McGovern reliance on overblown rhetoric and misinformation. On Thursday, Senator McGovern unveiled an Urban Policy Panel and unleashed a rhetorical outburst which reads as though it had been more than hurriedly compiled. Senator McGovern's statement was inaccurate and incomplete. Having failed to introduce a single piece of important legislation involving the cities in ten years, Senator McGovern has suddenly become a convert to the study of urban problems five weeks before the presidential election. We suppose that we should be grateful for even his death bed conversion. Senator McGovern, who was nowhere near the United States Senate when the vote on revenue sharing took place, now pronounces himself in favor of even bigger revenue-sharing programs -- although he characteristically does not specify where he would get the additional $4 billion he now proposes.

The fact is that President Nixon's revenue sharing proposals have been before the Congress for three years -- but Senator McGovern has only recently announced that he favored them. Perhaps with his help those programs could have gone into effect years ago. But when we needed his help, Senator McGovern was not around.

Senator McGovern claims that the Republican platform makes no mention of an urban growth policy while in fact the platform notes that general revenue sharing, urban and special revenue sharing and welfare reform are the building blocks of a national growth policy. Conversely, Senator McGovern declares himself in favor of a "re-invigorated" Law Enforcement Assistance Administration while his own party platform, drafted and approved by his extremist supporters in Miami Beach, calls for eliminating LEAA. The only conclusion is that Senator McGovern is unfamiliar with the important planks in his own platform, much less the Republican platform. In another misstatement, Senator McGovern claims that the Nixon Administration has impounded $315 million in public housing money. But the fact is the Office of Management and Budget is holding no public housing funds. That fact is easily verifiable, but Senator McGovern, with his usual penchant for inaccuracy and misstatement, did not check the facts.

In many other areas, Senator McGovern is wrong in his statement of facts and wrong in his propagation of policy. As President of the United States, he would be a disaster descending on the inhabitants of America's cities. It was President Nixon who took the initiative to propose, and in conjunction with the U.S. Conference of Mayors and the National League of Cities, guided revenue sharing through the Congress. And while revenue sharing is not a panacea for the problems of the cities, the inauguration of this new concept is a giant step toward restoring the ability of local governments to solve their own problems at the level closest to the people.

President Nixon's effective leadership has helped create more than two and one-half million jobs in the last year. New jobs are now being created at the fastest rate since the boom year of 1955.

Three times as many needy school children are receiving free or reduced price school lunches this year as there were in 1969.

Housing starts are at the rate of two and one-third million per year, 65 percent more than the average during the previous two administrations. These are the issues that are important to the people of the cities and to the rest of America -- and on these issues, President Nixon has done an outstanding job. For all these reasons, we support and will continue to support Richard Nixon for a second term.

The Cincinnati (Ohio) Enquirer, in its Tuesday editions, quotes Frank J. Lausche, former Democratic five-term Governor of Ohio and former U. S. Senator, as saying in an exclusive interview with The Enquirer's vice president and editor, Brady Black, that Lausche believes that "the security of our nation and the welfare of our people will be best served by the re-election of President Nixon."

Lausche, who served in the Senate with McGovern, said, "The record of Mr. McGovern shows that he is indecisive and inconsistent practically from day to day with the courses he will follow."

Lausche, who lives in Bethesda, Md., and practices law in Washington and in his home city of Cleveland, continued:

"The military budget cannot be cut in the amount which he has recommended without inviting offensive action by nations seeking expansion."

"His proposal of a gift of $1000 a year to each man, woman and child is practically unbelievable and incapable of achievement except through ruination of the economy," the Ohioan continued.

FRANK J. LAUSCHE

"His advocacy of the legalization of abortion and the sale and use of marijuana and the granting of amnesty to deserters and dodgers of the draft are wrong.

"His promotion of the acceptance of the policy of busing school children for the purpose of achieving racial integration is not acceptable to whites and to most blacks.

"As a citizen and as a veteran of World War I, I feel deeply hurt in the knowledge that Mr. McGovern expresses only good words in behalf of Communist North Vietnam and never even the faintest credit of decency either to the government of South Vietnam or its people.

"The President has taken long steps," Lausche declared, "in terms of bringing about peace in the world. He has lessened the tensions existing between our country on the one hand and Russia and China on the other.

"He has practically brought the South Vietnam war to an end. While there has not been a cease-fire, the fact remains that there is not now a single one of our men engaged in ground warfare.

"When Nixon became President there were 543,500 U.S. troops in South Vietnam. Today, four years later, there are 35,900.

FRANK J. LAUSCHE

"Mr. McGovern has shown a deep concern about our prisoners in North Vietnam. I cannot understand his pretensions of an ability to achieve a solution of the prisoners of war problem while failing to take any action now to call upon the Communists to abide by international rules of law requiring the Red Cross or some other impartial international agency to inspect the conditions under which the prisoners are kept."

Shifting to Senator McGovern's proposals to repeal certain deductions in federal income tax returns, Lausche said:

"Denying the right of a holder of government bonds, except those holding United States government bonds, to deduct from income the interest received on those bonds and the right of a homeowner with an outstanding mortgage debt to deduct from his income the interest paid on that mortgage and the right of an industry to accelerate the period of time in which an investment on a capital improvement has been made -- all these rights have been in existence and were the product primarily of Democratic Congresses."

WORK TO WIN

Published by NATIONAL LABOR COMMITTEE FOR THE ELECTION OF MCGOVERN-SHAWVER

Number 7

202/672-1729

September 29, 1972

4th ANNIVERSARY

October 9, 1968 — October 9, 1972

of Nixon's Campaign Statement:

"Those who have had a chance for four years and could not produce peace should not be given another chance."

—Richard M. Green
Santa Monica, California
October 8, 1972

OCTOBER 9, and continuing 'til election eve, George McGovern is going to hammer at Richard Nixon's failure to end the war. The stakes for American working men and women are enormous. It's their last chance until 1976 to vote for Peace.

WE KNOW Richard Nixon's four four extra years of war cost us dearly—

- Our families lost 20,000 sons, and 110,000 more were wounded.
- Our families remain separated from their loved ones in POW camps.
- Our families suffer the anguish of hundreds of others missing in action.
- Our families pay the cost of $65 billion in taxes and debt.
- Our families bear the expense of the war-caused inflation.
- All of us lost some of the moral fiber of America.

But the war, the bombing, the cost goes on and on—

WTF, Richard Nixon, what have we gained?

- Not peace,
- Not honor,
- Not settlement,
- Not democracy,
- Not even better settlement terms.

AND, Richard Nixon, when will it end?

- In 1969 you told us that "We will end this war before the end of 1970."
- In 1972 we read that "U.S. sides in Vietnam see unending war."
- In 1976, if you're re-elected, will this senseless war be over?

ENOUGH, Richard Nixon, the American worker can't afford four more years of you and your war.

Mark your calendar for Oct. 9.

On that date, Richard Nixon will be haunted by the fact that he's had four years to end the war and that, by his own statement, he shouldn't be given another chance.

George McGovern considers the Oct. 9 Nixon quote a "statement of retirement"—since, given four years, Nixon has not been able to produce peace. By Nixon's own standard, he is disqualified to be returned to office.

Throughout America on Oct. 9—in big ways and small—the millions of us who support George McGovern are being asked to help him observe the fourth anniversary of Nixon's statement.

George McGovern has asked organized labor, through the National Labor Committee for McGovern-Shriver, to take a leading part in the "October 9" effort.

The facts are simple:

- * the Vietnam war has hurt working people more than any others in our society;
- * it's our sons who have fought and died and been wounded;
- * it's our taxes that have been spent by the billions of dollars to finance the war;
- * it's our prices that have been forced upward by war-induced inflation, and
- * it's our wages that have been held back by economic dislocations caused by the Vietnam misadventure.

The Work to Win team—at the national, state and local levels—is called on to pitch in and help on this issue, not only on Oct. 9 but until George McGovern is elected to end this war.

RESPONSE TO AGNEW

Speaking to union members in Detroit Sept. 23, George McGovern received thunderous applause when he responded to an Agnew attack with these words:

"I want to say to Mr. Agnew, Don't you dare challenge my patriotism or my loyalty to this country. I'm in this race for the Presidency of the United States because I love this country enough to call it to a higher standard. I want us to be the great and good and decent and peaceful and just country that we ought to be and can be."

Senator George McGovern

"I ask you to think about these people in Southeast Asia, many of them doubtless wonder what this tragedy is all about, who are being killed day after day, by the bombs that fall from these planes ordered out by our President. I ask you to remember that while they have a different skin color than we do and while they are smaller than most of us in stature, I ask you to remember that each one of them is also a child of the same God that created us."

EVENTS WHAT'S BEING PLANNED...

1—McGovern hopes to deliver a major television address on the war issue on or about Oct. 9 (efforts are now underway to purchase a half-hour of network time—but the networks appear to be dragging feet).

2—Eleanor McGovern, Sargent Shriver and Eunice Shriver—along with dozens of Senators, Representatives, Governors, labor leaders and other public figures—will appear in major cities on Oct. 9 to highlight the Nixon quote. State and local labor organizations should immediately contact McGovern for President offices in their areas and work side-by-side with them to plan and carry out Oct. 9 events. If nothing is being planned in your city, start planning and preparing now.

3—Labor committees—on all levels—should make every effort to make sure that labor leaders play a prominent part in these appearances, programs and events.

4—Possible ideas on events that might be effective in your area: speakers, TV appearances, press conferences, home-to-home canvassing, etc. (In every instance, try to get local radio, TV and newspaper coverage on your activities).

5—McGovern for President offices, in conjunction with the National Labor Committee, are scheduling major speakers into key cities. In these cities, state and area labor leaders must play a major role in planning and coordinating activities. The schedules are being worked out. The National Labor Committee will inform the State Committees about these speakers and cities as soon as possible.

6—In addition to #5 above, special Vietnam observances are being planned by organized labor in perhaps six cities, during October. Again, details are still being worked out.

7—Because time is against us, and the TV time still hasn't been nailed down, stay alert to newspapers that may announce McGovern's Vietnam speech—and then go to work to build up the viewing audience. Talk to friends and neighbors, buy TV, radio or newspaper space to promote the show, etc.

8—Use every visual means available—signs, posters, television, newspapers, interviews, etc.—to publicize your activities and to focus attention on the fact that Nixon has failed to end the war.

9—Two million copies of a leaflet on the war issue are being distributed to State Labor Committees.

10—A fact sheet on the war should be in the hands of the McGovern for President offices throughout the country. The fact sheet is being sent to State Labor Committees for McGovern-Shriver in limited quantities. If time permits, and you need more information on the war, seek out the McGovern fact sheet—or use information being provided in this issue of Work to Win.

11—While Oct. 9 has a heavy symbolic value, any day and every day is a good day to support George McGovern and knock Nixon—regardless of the issue. Let's Work to Win together!

The Harry S. Truman Award

The Harry S. Truman Award was conceived by the Saint Louis Democratic City Central Committee as a continuing tribute to Missouri's most distinguished citizen, the 33rd President of the United States, and to honor each year, a Democrat who by his deeds and service to his party and community warrants such recognition.

The previous honorees were Senator Fred Harris of Oklahoma, Senator Stuart Symington and Governor Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri.

Senator Tom Eagleton was born in St. Louis on September 4, 1929. Tom was the youngest man ever elected to the Office of Circuit Attorney. He followed this by becoming the youngest Attorney General in Missouri's history in 1960 and its youngest Lieutenant Governor in 1964.

Eagleton was elected to the United States Senate in 1968. During the four years he has served in the Senate, he has established a solid reputation as an expert on the problems confronting labor and environment, urban affairs, health care, drug abuse, foreign policy and the aged.

In 1956 he married the former Barbara Ann Smith of St. Louis, a friend since childhood. The couple have two children, son Terence, 13, and daughter Christin, 9.

Tom graduated cum laude from Amherst College and Harvard Law School. During his career at Amherst, he took time out to enlist in the U.S. Navy and spent the years 1948-1949 on active duty in the service.

As far as his political persuasions are concerned, the freshman Senator generally eschews the traditional labels of "liberal" or "conservative" in favor of designating himself as a "progressive".

George McGovern was born in Avon, South Dakota, on July 19, 1922, the son of a Methodist Clergyman.

His undergraduate education, interrupted by Service in World War II was at Dakota Wesleyan University. He earned his Ph.D. in History and Government at Northwestern University and returned to serve as a History professor at Dakota Wesleyan in Mitchell, South Dakota.

He served in the U.S. House of Representatives, 1957 - 1961.

In January, 1961, President John F. Kennedy appointed him first Director of the Food for Peace Program and Special Assistant to the President.

He was elected to the Senate in 1962 and re-elected in 1968.

He is Chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Human needs. He also serves as Chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Indian Affairs and is a member of the Committee on Agriculture and Interior.

Senator McGovern is the author of three books: War against Want, 1964; Agricultural Thought in the Twentieth Century, 1967 and A Time of War/a Time of Peace, 1968; as well as articles for leading magazines and journals. He holds several honorary degrees.

The Senator and his wife, Eleanor, have four daughters and one son - Ann McGovern Mead, Susan McGovern Rowan, Teresa, Steven and Mary, and three grandsons, Timothy and Kevin Mead and Matthew Rowen.

Washington, D.C. 20006

Dear Mr. Caldiero:

Well, yes, you're right on some counts. Perhaps Shirley MacLaine is less credible than James Stewart, less charismatic than John Wayne, less entertaining than Bob Hope, older than Pam Powell (though that point verged on bitchiness, I thought). But what seemed fascinating to us about her was neither her show-biz qualities nor her particular political views but the unusual phenomenon of a movie actress temporarily abandoning her entertainment career entirely and devoting herself full-time to politics. In that respect, at least, I think MacLaine outweighs the other people you mentioned, and that's why we put her on the cover. (Do you honestly believe that we thought a cover story on her would "revive the faltering McGovern candidacy?")

I'm sorry that you feel we gave the Nixon celebrities short shrift-- I don't think we did, but that's a matter of judgment. (Your picture count, incidentally, was a little unfair: exclusive of the cover and the boxed story on a day with MacLaine, we showed seven McGovern celebs and five Nixon ones. And in the issue of September 11--page 21--the celebrity score was Nixon 4, McGovern 0.) I don't know, in light of the tone of your letter, whether you'd be willing to accept my thanks for anything. But if so, I do want you to know that we're extremely grateful for the very generous help you and the Nixon celebrities gave us on this story. They offered us a lot of time and good material, and all with great good humor. God knows not every bit of it was used--it never is in any story--but I'm satisfied that the best parts were included. And I cannot believe that any of our readers finished the article without a very strong impression that celebrities have turned out in extraordinary numbers for President Nixon this year.

Sincerely yours,

1910 K STREET, N.W., WASHINGTON, D.C. 20006

Dear Friend:

Sargent Shriver and I are seeking one million Americans who will help finance our "people's campaign" for President and Vice-President with an average contribution of $25.

We have been enormously heartened by the tens of thousands of contributions that have been pouring in by mail. But much more is still needed.

So if you have not already sent us a contribution, we earnestly hope that we may now include you in our Million-Member Club of contributors.

If you have already given, please consider giving again. Both the need and the opportunity are almost without precedent in our history. Your contributions will strengthen not only our presidential campaign but the whole forward movement of the Democratic Party.

In Richard Nixon and his heir apparent, Spiro Agnew, we Democrats once again face a deeply entrenched Republican Administration fighting to preserve the status quo and protect the privileges of the favored few.

In contrast to our openly disclosed support from thousands of small contributors, the Republicans have refused to reveal the sources of the $10 million they hastily gathered in before the new disclosure law took effect. One can only conclude that many of these secret contributions are large gifts from wealthy individuals and corporations seeking special favors.

And in their desperate efforts to retain power, the Republicans are now attempting to rewrite the history of the Nixon years.

At the same time, they are seeking to distort my views and programs almost beyond recognition.

They say they stand for full employment. But they have added two million workers to the unemployment rolls.

They say they stand for a balanced budget. But the Nixon deficits have already exceeded the combined deficits of President Eisenhower, President Kennedy, and President Johnson.

Indeed, the cumulative four-year Nixon deficit of $80 billion represents one fifth of the entire national debt accumulated since the age of George Washington. But the Republicans have nothing to show for it except a string of Nixon vetoes of needed programs and a new holocaust of devastation in Vietnam. And they project going deeper into debt by another $25 billion in 1973.

They say they stand for stable prices. But consumer prices have risen 18% during the Nixon years, 50% faster than during the previous Democratic administrations.

They accuse us of fiscal irresponsibility. But it is we Democrats who are spelling out exactly how we propose to finance the programs the country so urgently needs. It is the Republicans who are giving the nation rhetoric rather than arithmetic.

In his acceptance speech, Richard Nixon talked about higher retirement benefits. But he did not tell us how he would pay the bill.

He talked about reducing property taxes. But he did not tell us how he would replace the lost revenue.

In this election year, he promises aid to parochial schools, but we have seen neither his plans nor his financing.

He hails an arms agreement with Russia but then asks Congress to increase our already bloated military spending budget by an additional $4 billion.

For four years he has talked about Revenue Sharing with cities and states, but he has not provided revenue to share.

For four years he has talked of Family Assistance. But he has shown more vigor in vetoing child development, day care, and education bills than in pressing for Family Assistance.

And if we do the things he suggests without sound financing, we will strengthen the already harsh grip of inflation on the families of America.

For months I have worked with a team of distinguished economists to develop a fiscally sound program for reordering our national priorities and fulfilling our national needs.

This was the economic program I unveiled in an address before the New York Society of Security Analysts on August 29.

Those who hoped I would compromise on the basic principles on which I have campaigned from the beginning were undoubtedly disappointed.

Those who wanted reassurance that my program is completely workable were satisfied. I was particularly pleased that Dr. Paul Samuelson, the Nobel Prize-winning economist, called it "a tremendous improvement over the present system."

You will hear from the Republicans that my proposals will increase taxes on every family with an income above $12,000, or $15,000, or whatever level the White House invents tomorrow.

But the truth is that under my program, no family living on wages and salaries rather than investments will face a single penny of increased taxes. Indeed, homeowners sinking under the weight of heavy local school taxes on their property could enjoy tax relief in the form of reduction of as much as 1/3 of this burden.

No longer would we have such grotesque examples of tax injustice as that of the American who enjoyed an income one recent year of $2,300,000 from oil and gas, capital gains, dividends, and interest -- yet paid tax at less than half the 14% a working person pays on the first $1,000 of taxable income.

No longer would money earned by money be taxed at a lower rate (as it often is today) than money earned by people.

And no longer would corporations get special tax breaks which encourage profits more than they do investments in growth.

The tax reforms we propose, phased in over a 3-year period, would yield $22 billion in additional tax revenue by 1975.

In addition, I have proposed cutting military spending by approximately $10 billion a year in each of the next 3 years.

Current military spending wastes literally billions of dollars on planes that do not fly, on missiles that do not work, on arms we do not need, and on a capacity to fight guerilla conflicts that are none of our business.

We have more top brass today to command 2.5 million men than we had to command 12 million men at the end of World War II.

We have 500,000 American troops and dependents still stationed in Europe -- a number more than double the level President Eisenhower thought adequate nearly 7 years ago.

Added together, this tax reform program and military spending cut will provide $52 billion for the programs we need.

It can provide meaningful revenue-sharing for our hard-pressed cities and states, so they can afford to offer adequate public services once again.

It can provide $15 billion in Federal aid to our school districts so they can offer quality education and reduce school taxes.

It can provide for new hospitals, more medical training, cleaner air and water, a G.I. Bill for Vietnam veterans and policemen, safer streets, better protection against job accidents.

It can cut our welfare rolls by as much as 30% by providing a decent job at decent pay for everyone who wants to work -- and by broadening and increasing Social Security coverage for the handicapped and feeble elderly.

And we can still have enough left over to provide $77 a week in cash and food stamps for a helpless mother with three small children who can't work and needs welfare to survive.

This program will not cost $144 billion, the incredible claim made in the President's acceptance speech. It will cost less than the $52 billion we can realize through my proposed tax reforms and military spending cuts.

I realize it is unprecedented for a presidential candidate to make such detailed, specific proposals. I realize it has made me a much easier target for the opposition than if I had confined my public statements to safe generalities, as candidates usually do.

But I feel that 1972 is a turning point in the affairs of this nation. It is a time when we must decide what kind of people we are, and what kind of country we want. Such a time demands concrete proposals and a clear choice.

Please help us carry this choice to the American people by sending us your contribution. Without the unstinting support of those who keenly appreciate the special importance of this election, we may not succeed. But with such support, we cannot fail.

Sincerely yours,

George McGovern

P.S. After President Jackson was elected as a "people's candidate" in 1828, he threw open the doors of the White House on Inauguration Day and let the people come in.

Inspired by his example, I wish it were possible to invite everyone who supports my campaign to come to a People's Dinner Party at the White House after my inauguration next January.

Obviously, inviting millions of people would be impossible. But we will have a People's Dinner Party anyway, and the invitation list will be made up by selecting 250 names at random from our total list of supporters. I hope you will be one of them.

Of course, you need not make a contribution to be eligible. Just send your name. But we do hope you will be as generous as you can.

G.M.

This year your political contribution can be tax-deductible

Under the new income tax law, you can increase your contribution substantially without it costing you a penny more in after-tax income. You have a choice of two different methods.

1. THE TAX CREDIT WAY. After you've computed your total tax, you can subtract one-half of your political contributions — claiming a credit of up to $12.50 if filing a separate return or up to $25 on a joint return. This means a $25 contribution will cost you only $12.50 if you're a single person. A couple can donate $50 at a cost of only $25.

2. THE TAX DEDUCTION WAY. Or you can deduct from your taxable income all political contributions up to $50 for a single return or up to $100 for a joint return — just as you would a charitable contribution. Under this method, a couple with combined income in, let's say, the 40% tax bracket could make a $100 contribution at an actual cost of only $60 — a clear gain of $40.

STATEMENT OF MAURICE H. STANS IN RESPONSE TO SENATOR
WARREN G. MAGNUSON

I am sorry that Senator Magnuson has chosen to join the McGovern smear Brigade. He has resorted to crass political inuendo to support a charge which he knows full well is contrary to fact. The meeting he described was a constructive discussion of technical industry matters and had no political purpose. It did not deal with political contributions and no favors of any kind were asked or granted. Indeed, the one campaign contribution to which he referred was from a man who wasn't even there, and had been committed months earlier solely on his own behalf. During my three years as Secretary of Commerce I am proud that the department accomplished more to protect the public against flammable fabrics than the two previous administrations combined. The Bureau of Standards performed its responsibilities effectively and expeditiously at all times. The safety standards are too important to be made a political football and I am dismayed that Senator Magnuson has chosen to do so.

MISSISSIPPI COMMITTEE APPOINTS STATE LEGISLATORS COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN

Senator Charles W. Pickering of Laurel was appointed State Chairman of the State Legislators Committee for the Re-election of the President in Mississippi. The appointment was made by Clark MacGregor, Campaign Director of the Committee for the Re-election of the President. Pickering will coordinate the efforts of the Mississippi state legislators committee to re-elect President Nixon.

"I am deeply honored by the appointment", Pickering said.

"I believe that the re-election of President Nixon is in the best interest of the future of the State and of the Nation. He has treated the South with respect and dignity; he has repeatedly spoken out against busing, and has appointed conservatives to the Supreme Court. Election of George McGovern who tried to make secret deals with the enemy by sending Pierre Salinger to Paris would not only bankrupt our Country, but it would destroy all confidence which our friends and allies have in the United States."

Senator Pickering is serving his first four-year term as a member of the Mississippi State Senate. He served from 1964 to 1968 as County Attorney of Jones County. He is an attorney and farmer.

Senator Pickering was a delegate to the 1968 National Republican Convention in Miami and served in 1968 as 5th Congressional District Chairman for the election of President Nixon.

Senator Pickering was selected as one of three outstanding young men in Mississippi in 1964 by the Jaycees. He is currently Chairman of the Jones County Chapter of the National American Red Cross and past Director of the fund drive of the Heart Association and the March of Dimes. He is a Kiwanian, a Mason, a Shriner, and a member of the First Baptist Church of Laurel.

STATEMENT BY CLARK MacGREGOR, CAMPAIGN DIRECTOR, ON COLUMBUS DAY

The discovery of America marked a turning point in the lives of millions of people from Europe, Asia and the rest of the world. What the Great Discoverer found here in 1492 was a land of hardship and hard work, but, above all, a new land that was to be a land of opportunity for mankind.

During the nearly five centuries since that great Italian navigator - Cristoforo Colombo - or Christopher Columbus, as we know him - discovered our New World, America has been the dream beyond the reality, the place to which men and women with ambition and courage could come when all else failed them. It became a land where people of spirit could prove their own worth because they were free to advance themselves on their own merits.

We are very proud on this observance of Columbus Day of the many men and women and children who have come to America from Italy, from Europe and from all over the world. And we are proud of the many Americans of Italian heritage whose outstanding qualities have earned them high positions in President Nixon's Cabinet, in the White House and in other areas of our government.

A CONVERSATION WITH YANK DURHAM

WASHINGTON -- Sit down with Yancey "Yank" Durham, the man behind Joe Frazier, throw him some tough questions -- and wait for the fireworks.

A strong man, and a man of strong opinions, Durham gets right to the point with his opinions on the fight game, sportscasters, politics, the Olympics and anything else you may care to name.

In an interview in the nation's capital, he offered these thoughts:

-- on officiating at the Olympic games in Munich: "I thought it was terrible. I mean, from what I could see on television, I don't think they gave the American boys a fair shake there."

-- on ABC sportscaster Howard Cosell: "If he ever picks a winner, I'm willing to step out of the fight game. I do not think Howard Cosell is good for fighting nor do I think he's good for football. He and I don't get along too well for the remarks he makes on various things and he's always wrong."

-- on government support for the American Olympic Team: "I'm 100 per cent for the government doing something about this because we have so many athletes here that just don't have the money to go to it. ... Now you need some reputable coaches to go with these guys and especially in the fighting game."

(more)

DURHAM

2-2-2-2

-- on politics: "I'm very concerned with this election, and especially I am 100 per cent for President Nixon, and I'm going to do everything I possibly can to keep him in there. I don't think that at this particular time we should change. But I only have one vote and I'm going to do everything I can for the President because of various things he has done under his administration that I am really carried away with, and especially for what he has done for Sickle Cell Anemia."

It is when his interviewer asks about this last point -- Sickle Cell Anemia -- that Durham becomes intense. Normally a relaxed, humorous man whose voice seems always on the edge of laughter, Durham turns deadly serious when the conversation turns to Sickle Cell.

The founder of the Yank Durham Sickle Cell Anemia Foundation, the man who promoted Joe Frazier into the biggest pay day in boxing history, devotes hours every week to promoting funds to combat the disease which strikes only black people.

"I usually use all of my time when I'm not with the fighters to do this," Durham says, "and I always make the statement that this is the hardest fight -- the biggest fight -- I ever had. That is, trying to fight Sickle Cell Anemia. And with the help of Joe Frazier and various other people ... I hope in the near future we'll come up with a cure for it."

Asked if he finds more interest in the Nixon Administration in combatting Sickle Cell, the man who has endorsed Democrats and Republicans -- who endorsed John J. Kennedy in 1960 -- says, "Yes, I see a lot of answers in this Administration. ... Anything I can do to help the President or to keep him in office -- re-elect him -- I am willing."

(more)

DURHAM

3-3-3-3

President Nixon's budget this year calls for ~~$500~~^{$15} million to combat sickle cell, the first time any Administration has made a major commitment to this fight. But Durham wants to supplement that request with private funds.

On October 15, Durham says, "We're having a Walkathon in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. It'll start at John F. Kennedy Plaza, and we have a 20-mile walk."

"Anyone who would like to participate in this walk -- and it's the first walk for Sickle Cell Anemia -- I would like them to get in touch with us in Philadelphia at (215) 732-2213."

"People are going to walk and they're going to get sponsors -- whether it's $1, $2, $5 or $10 a mile. This money will go into the foundation ... and then they'll send this money out to various places, various towns, various cities, hospitals to ... treat people, do research and various other things."

Durham says Floyd Patterson, Jackie Robinson and many other celebrities and athletes will be joining in the walkathon and "we're going to have a big day."

That said, Durham relaxed again and told how he discovered Joe Frazier: "Joe came into the gym to lose weight. He didn't come in to be a fighter. And after being around the gym for awhile, he said, 'I think I want to try.'"

"I said, O.K., put on the gloves. So he started staggering around the ring like all the other fighters do."

Some observers thought Joe wouldn't ever make a fighter, Durham confides, but "I said, well, if you come into the gym and make the sacrifice, I think you can make it. And from that point he started training and we started putting him in amateur fights."

(more)

DURHAM

4-4-4-4

The rest, of course, is history, with Joe Frazier eventually defeating Mohammed Ali (whom Durham still calls Cassius Clay) in the richest fight of all time to become the undisputed world heavyweight champion.

Ali, Durham says, "is a nice guy, but, you know, he's a great actor. ... Boxing was dying and with Joe Frazier and Cassius Clay, I think they brought fighting back to what it should be."

Although Durham is extremely close to Frazier, Yank says he doesn't know how Joe will vote in November. "Joe is concentrating on his boxing," Durham says. "That's mostly what we talk about."

Before he left, his interviewers asked him one more question: what did he think of Georgia legislator Julian Bond's statement that a black man who supports President Nixon is a "political prostitute"?

"Well, if he made that statement, I hope he listens to this," Durham said. "I am for the man that I think is the best man suited for the job -- and that is President Nixon."

And with that Yank Durham went off to promote another fight, raise money for Sickle Cell Anemia and loosen up the world with a few good, solid jabs to the intellect.

TEXAS LABOR COMMITTEE ANNOUNCES SUPPORT FOR THE RE-ELECTION OF PRESIDENT NIXON

A Texas Labor Committee for the Re-election of President Nixon was announced at a press conference today in Dallas by Bernard E. DeLury, Executive Director of the national Labor Committee for the Re-election of the President.

DeLury said that Paul Story, branch agent in Galveston for the National Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, AFL-CIO, will serve as state co-chairman along with R. B. Bunch, president of the Texas State Conference of Teamsters which represents 32,000 members in various local unions. "Mr. Bunch and Mr. Story will be contacting other Trade Union officials in an effort to expand the Committee to include other Texas labor organization," DeLury said.

Mr. Story, a lifelong Democrat and active in Texas politics, stated that Labor should support President Nixon as "the most experienced man for the good of America."

The Labor support was accepted on behalf of President Nixon by Mr. DeLury and Mr. Donald F. Rodgers, consultant to the President for Labor.

Mr. Rodgers said that similar Labor committees are emerging across the United States and that it appears that the regional and local leadership is responding to the feelings of the members who are supporting President Nixon.

Jewish vote

Nixon has fine record on Israel

To the Editor:

I was both displeased and annoyed by two letters that appeared in The Inquirer Sept. 6, concerning the Jews and the President.

One gentleman pointed out the irony of how the Jewish vote seems to be swinging toward the incumbent Republican, despite Vietnam, where he feels the U. S. bombing policy is committing genocide, which he likens to the Nazi death camps.

I would remind him of the thousands upon thousands of people in concentration camps in Cuba, Russia, Eastern Europe, and North Vietnam, and that the Communists are the aggressors trying to impose their own ideology and government upon the people of the South who want only to be left alone.

If bombing is the only means to keep thousands of South Vietnamese out of concentration camps, which would spring up overnight if the Communists took over, I say bomb!

The other letter a person who is obviously quite concerned about the Jewish community portrays the President as anti-Jewish. Admittedly Richard Nixon does not possess the wit and warmth of John Kennedy or the rural mannerisms of Lyndon Johnson, but how this gentleman reaches the conclusion that the President is not favorable to Jewish interests is beyond sensible calculation.

This person felt that the President should have taken strong action to get France to give Mirage fighters to Israel. He was grossly naive of the international implications. He also may not know that since that time, American Phantom F-4 aircraft have been shipped to Israel and then assembled upon delivery.

DONALD VINYARD

Carney's Point, N.J.

To the Editor:

I am president of a synagogue in the Northeast and have always voted Democratic. However, this time I shall vote for President Nixon because McGovern's election to the Presidency would be a catastrophe for Israel, America, and the entire free world.

McGovern, while trying to win Jewish votes, has called for strong American support for Israel, but has acted against Israel at every opportunity. He has advocated that Jerusalem be internationalized and that Israel withdraw from all territories regained during the Six Day War and that any aircraft supplied to Israel be forbidden to fly over Arab territory even while Egypt was waging its war of attrition.

McGovern voted against at least two bills giving aid to Israel (Defense Procurement Act of 1970 and Foreign Aid Act of 1971).

McGovern's proposals to cut $30 billion from the Defense budget will leave the United States a second rate power. Alone and weakened, for how long could America remain free?

President Nixon has wound down American activity in the Vietnam War and, if not for McGovern's interference,

President Nixon has wound down American activity in the Vietnam War and, if not for McGovern's interference in negotiations, would have ended it altogether by now.

He has given Israel the weapons to make her strong enough to defend herself and end the shooting in the Middle East and has supported Israel's quest for secure borders and peace.

Dear Harry:

Thank you very much for your kind invitation for lunch at the White House October 10. I will be in Las Vegas attending the U. S. Independent Telephone Association convention and therefore will be unable to attend.

We have just completed a poll in Kenneth Robinson's 7th Congressional District, and you may be interested in these figures: Nixon, 67%; McGovern, 18%; and undecided, 15%. In the Senate race it is: Henderson, 1%; Scott, 33%; Spong, 34%; and undecided, 32%.

Bill Scott can win this Senate race and the undecided vote will make it possible; however, to do this we will need the full lever that is available of the President and the Administration.

Kenneth's race is coming along very nicely and I expect him to win with a percentage similar to the President.

Best personal regards.

Yours truly,

Shirley MacLaine well deserves your front cover and inside story (NATIONAL AFFAIRS, Sept. 25). We'd like to second that tribute because of our personal encounter with Shirley. Amidst the confusion of credential challenges at the Democratic convention, Shirley heard of our challenge and asked if she could help us. She then joined us before the full convention to ask that we be allowed to keep our seats as delegates. It is this kind of "extra" commitment that makes Shirley MacLaine an outstanding woman whether it be in politics or any other endeavor.

■ Contrary to the distorted impression you were striving to leave with your readership, Shirley MacLaine is not the best example of entertainers who give their time and talents to political candidates and issues. I submit that she is less credible than James Stewart, less charismatic than John Wayne, older than Pam Powell and less entertaining than Bob Hope. She is also less experienced than all three of these men who had the courage of their convictions long before Shirley MacLaine discovered the publicity potential of supporting extremist candidates like George McGovern.

I am, quite frankly, shocked by your attempt to revive the faltering McGovern candidacy with this puff piece on another radical millionaire backing the prairie populist. Neither I nor your readers, however, should have been surprised. In light of NEWSWEEK's well-known bias, it is surprising only that its editors did not choose to feature our modern-day Hanoi Hannah—Ms. Jane Fonda—as the shining example of entertainers active in politics.

TEXAS LABOR COMMITTEE ANNOUNCES SUPPORT FOR THE RE-ELECTION OF PRESIDENT NIXON

A Texas Labor Committee for the Re-election of President Nixon was announced at a press conference today in Dallas by Bernard E. DeLury, Executive Director of the national Labor Committee for the Re-election of the President.

DeLury said that Paul Story, branch agent in Galveston for the National Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, AFL-CIO, will serve as state co-chairman along with R. B. Bunch, president of the Texas State Conference of Teamsters which represents 32,000 members in various local unions. "Mr. Bunch and Mr. Story will be contacting other Trade Union officials in an effort to expand the Committee to include other Texas labor organization," DeLury said.

Mr. Story, a lifelong Democrat and active in Texas politics, stated that Labor should support President Nixon as "the most experienced man for the good of America."

The Labor support was accepted on behalf of President Nixon by Mr. DeLury and Mr. Donald F. Rodgers, consultant to the President for Labor.

Mr. Rodgers said that similar Labor committees are emerging across the United States and that it appears that the regional and local leadership is responding to the feelings of the members who are supporting President Nixon.

STATEMENT BY ALBERT E. ABRAHAMS, DIRECTOR OF COMMUNICATIONS FOR THE COMMITTEE FOR THE RE-ELECTION OF THE PRESIDENT

This campaign is sick and tired of political and physical harassment. Throughout the campaign, Nixon headquarters and Nixon supporters in all parts of the country have been subjected to a campaign of constant physical and verbal abuse. Our buildings have been targets for arson in which one person died; another fire-bombing took place in California just this week. Delegates to the Republican National Convention were physically assaulted by mobs. As has been publicly reported and admitted, McGovern headquarters in California were placed at the disposal of anti-war demonstrators organizing street protests against the President with the clear purpose of inhibiting his right to campaign among the people. And violent demonstrations in New York City resulted in extensive property damage.

Today a group of "welfare rights" demonstrators invaded the Washington headquarters of Democrats for Nixon, disrupted activities, tore down signs and replaced them with posters calling for a $6,500 guaranteed annual income for welfare recipients. Whether or not these people are part of the official McGovern campaign apparatus, they are obviously supporters of Senator McGovern. He endorsed and introduced their legislation in the United States Senate. That legislation, of course, was totally rejected by the Congress, as well as by the American people.

And now the people who back his concepts have invaded a peaceful political headquarters in unlawful actions resulting in a number of arrests.

The time has come for Senator McGovern to join in calling a halt to these despicable and criminal acts. And that time is now. Not tomorrow. Not next week. Not after the election. But right now. Senator McGovern must tell them to come home to his own political headquarters and leave ours alone.

Clark MacGregor, Campaign Director of the Committee for the Re-election of the President, today announced the organization of Physicians for the Re-election of the President, which is mobilizing support for the President's campaign among the nation's doctors.

The physicians' group is headed by a National Steering Committee under the chairmanship of Malcolm C. Todd, M.D., a Long Beach, California surgeon, who traveled with President Nixon as a staff physician in his 1952, 1956 and 1960 campaigns. Dr. Todd is a past president of the California Medical Association and presently is chairman of the American Medical Association's Council on Health Manpower.

Serving as Dr. Todd's co-chairman on the committee is Mrs. Elmer M. (Mary Louise) Smith of Des Moines, Iowa. Mrs. Smith has been active in Medical Society Auxiliary affairs and is coordinating the activity of physicians' wives in the campaign.

Honorary co-chairmen are the following highly-respected physicians who, over the years, have been closely associated personally with the President: Edward R. Annis, M.D., of Miami and New York, a past president of AMA; John Brasino, M.D., of Chappaqua, New York; Victor DeLuccia, M.D., of New York City; John Lungren, M.D., Long Beach, California; Edward E. Meyers, M.D., of Englewood, New Jersey; and William B. Walsh, M.D., director of Project Hope, Washington, D.C.

Members of the National Steering Committee, in addition to Dr. Todd, are the following physicians, each of whom has been responsible for forming physicians' organizations in several states in their areas: Frank C. Coleman, M.D., Tampa, Florida; F.W. Dowda, M.D., Atlanta, Georgia; C.H. Hagmeier, M.D., Portland, Oregon; Max E. Johnson, M.D., San Antonio, Texas; Rex E. Kenyon, M.D., Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; George J. Lawrence, Jr., M.D., Flushing, New York; Tom E. Nesbitt, M.D., Nashville, Tennessee; and Robert N. Smith, M.D., Toledo, Ohio.

In announcing the physicians' organization, Mr. MacGregor said, "Because physicians are accorded such a high degree of respect and confidence by the general public, it is heartening to note that polls have shown that the medical community overwhelmingly supports the re-election of President Nixon. I am sure that the Physicians for the Re-election of the President will play a vital role in our campaign to give the President a tremendous vote of confidence on November 7."

Concerning his role in the campaign, Dr. Todd stated, "I am convinced that the re-election of President Nixon is essential to the goal, which we all share, of providing adequate health care for our nation's citizens. This is in the best interests both of the doctors and of their patients. I know that the President respects the importance of an independent medical profession in providing quality health service to the public.

"Physicians, as leaders of their communities, can play a significant role in this campaign, and it is our objective to assure that they fulfill this responsibility for the benefit of our profession and of the nation."

Clark MacGregor, Campaign Director, today released the attached memorandum which he has directed to his campaign organization for the remaining weeks of the campaign.

MEMORANDUM FOR:

STATE CHAIRMEN AND CAMPAIGN WORKERS

FROM:

CLARK MacGREGOR, CAMPAIGN DIRECTOR

SUBJECT:

Violence Directed at the Nixon Campaign

On Thursday, October 12, a large group of so-called "Welfare Rights" demonstrators invaded the headquarters of Democrats for Nixon in Washington, D.C. Before they were arrested by the police -- after they had ignored repeated requests to leave -- they tore campaign signs off the walls, replaced them with their own posters and turned the offices into a shambles.

On October 8, a molotov cocktail was discovered propped against the door of our Newhall, California headquarters in a manner calculated to ignite it under the feet of whomever opened the door. Luckily, the device was discovered before it went off.

These two very recent incidents, added to a lengthy list of others, make it quite clear that our facilities and our staffs must constantly guard against potential acts of violence.

On September 25, all state chairmen received a memorandum from the National Committee's Director of Administration urging the implementation of routine security measures to insure the safety of our facilities and personnel. That notice reflected a deep concern which is reinforced by the incidents cited above. Thus, the purpose of this memorandum is to emphasize the importance of anticipating similar acts, hopefully less violent and dangerous, in the remaining days of the campaign.

So that you will fully understand the nature and gravity of the threat, let me outline a few of the incidents which have already occurred:

- On September 17, fire caused extensive damage to the Democrats for Nixon Headquarters in Hollywood, California. According to police, one of the arsonists was burned to death at the scene of the fire. The three burglars were attempting to obtain a telephone switchboard mechanism at the same time; the arson was an attempt to cover up the burglary.
- On September 25, arsonists caused an estimated $100,000 - $150,000 damage to the Committee's headquarters in Phoenix, Arizona. According to police, fire department and FBI reports, a highly flammable liquid was poured throughout the first floor offices and set afire. The fire department said the fire caused by this act was one of the most intense in memory.
- The State Headquarters for the Nixon Re-election Committee in Los Angeles has been the target of two major demonstrations.
- Various Nixon storefronts throughout Los Angeles County have reported minor damage, such as broken windows, over the past weeks.
- McGovern headquarters in Los Angeles acknowledges permitting use of its telephones by anti-war demonstrators for the purpose of promoting a major demonstration against the President when he appeared at the Century Plaza Hotel on September 27.
- Similar permission was given to use Senator McGovern's Berkeley headquarters as a "drop" for literature explaining how and where demonstrators should appear against the President in San Francisco, including an exhortation that the demonstrators should "take a pig to lunch" and block the President's right to communicate his views to the Nation while in San Francisco.

- Shortly after the President's appearance, roving bands of demonstrators smashed windows of business and commercial enterprises in downtown San Francisco.
- At least half a dozen incidents have been reported by our State Headquarters in New York City. These incidents have occurred within the past few weeks and have included major demonstrations and several arrests, a fire-bomb incident and broken windows at storefronts throughout New York City.
- In Massachusetts, approximately 100 people marched on our State Headquarters in Boston. The demonstrators carried placards and leaflets identifying themselves as "Grassroots McGovern Volunteers." After a brief demonstration in front of our Headquarters, they attempted to enter the building by force after having been asked to clear the doorway by the building superintendent. Two demonstrators were arrested following a scuffle with police.
- The windows of the Nixon storefront in Arlington, Massachusetts, were broken.
- There have been numerous other incidents, reported and verified, of a minor nature.

I urge all of you to note these facts with a minimum of alarm but a maximum of caution. Inasmuch as most of these incidents have taken place quite recently, I strongly urge, once again, that you employ all security measures necessary to protect the personnel working at your offices.

In only some of these cases have the perpetrators been linked with the opposition's campaign, openly or otherwise. In several cases, there has been no evidence of political motivation. However, it is safe to assume that the majority of incidents have been politically inspired, although not necessarily with the approval of McGovern campaign people. The sudden rash of violent incidents coincides with the increasing evidence that Senator McGovern's candidacy is proving to be disastrous in result and desperate in nature. Some of his more unthinking supporters might well decide to try to take his campaign into their own hands.

I will back you in every way. If Senator McGovern would join us in a constructive and positive way, opposing any breach of the peace, any effort to promote violence, we could go a long way toward protecting the campaign from physical harm and advancing the right of the President and, indeed, of Senator McGovern to proceed on the campaign trail in peace so that the issues of the day may be debated rationally and calmly enough to be heard by all Americans.

STATEMENT BY A SPOKESMAN FOR THE COMMITTEE FOR THE RE-ELECTION OF THE PRESIDENT

The Committee for the Re-election of the President deeply appreciates the generous assistance of Mrs. Martha Mitchell in helping to re-elect President Nixon.

However, recent innuendos about her personal well-being apparently prompted by an unfortunate incident in California in mid-June have given cause for deep concern and regret.

Mrs. Mitchell has made several personal appearances in recent weeks and participated in numerous press interviews which we believe remove any doubt about her physical and emotional health. The rumors to the contrary should be taken for what they are -- outrageous gossip. She has been open, free and candid in her conversations with the press and in her public appearances.

The Committee deplores both the rumors and their sources. We strongly condemn any insinuation that serves to discredit this gracious lady.

Mrs. Mitchell returns with her husband and daughter to private life in New York with the best wishes and high esteem of those who have had the pleasure of her association and friendship here in the Nation's Capitol.

The attached statement was released to the Congressional Record today by Senator Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.).

Remarks by Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona prepared for insertion in the record of October 12, 1972

A TALE OF TWO CAMPAIGNS

Mr. President, one of the most interesting aspects of the Presidential campaign to date is the anguish and frustration being shown by members of the liberal press because the American people have not taken seriously their charges of corruption in the Nixon Administration.

These experts in the art of the double standard would like to see President Nixon held personally accountable for the Watergate incident and every other irregularity that has occurred during his term in office. They would like the public to believe that in some sinister way one of the greatest Presidents this country has ever had was personally pulling strings to have his campaign workers engage in illegal pursuits.

In effect, they make something of a superman out of the President in this respect. They depict a man who is not busy enough opening the door to Communist China, conferring in Moscow with Soviet leaders, winding down the war in Vietnam, placing the National economy on the road to prosperity and attempting a massive reform of the Federal bureaucracy. They would have us believe the President is so energetic and efficient that he also has time to pass on every move made by every person engaged in the campaign to re-elect him for four more years.

Liberal newsmen, on T.V., on the radio and in the newspapers have consistently bemoaned the fact that the Watergate affair has not convinced the American people that they should dump President Nixon and elect a man who would undo every bit of good that has been accomplished at home and abroad in the past four years.

This is a question on which I feel I have special qualifications to comment. This is true because the liberals who are today complaining because the public is not inclined to hold President Nixon personally accountable for every act committed by Republican workers are the same people who went all the way for the re-election of President Lyndon Johnson despite the crimes committed by his personal Senate protege, Bobby Baker. Although President Johnson, when he was in the Senate, often referred to Baker as the nearest thing to a son he had ever had, the liberals saw nothing strange in the fact that Mr. Johnson knew nothing about Baker's wide-spread and long-term felonious activities.

Here was a situation where criminal actions were taken by a man very close to the President of the United States, but a man whose activities the liberals and the voting public never even considered holding against Mr. Johnson. I am not suggesting that President Johnson had any knowledge of Baker's activities, nor am I suggesting that President Johnson condoned these activities. What I am saying is that Mr. Johnson had a much greater opportunity to know what Baker was up to than President Nixon had to know what the Watergate buggers were up to.

Mr. President, eight years ago, the liberal press, especially those parts of it located in Washington, D.C., had no interest in harping continually on Mr. Johnson's close relationship to Bobby Baker. In fact, that aspect of Mr. Johnson's career was seldom even mentioned. But today, we find the liberal press demanding that every last detail of the Watergate affair be aired before the election because of "the people's right to know." Leading the campaign, with stories, editorials and cartoons, is, of course, the Washington Post. I submit that the Post, in its hysterical and righteous complaints about the Nixon campaign, has got to have set some kind of an all-time record for political hypocrisy. This is the newspaper which, in 1964, was so negligent of the public's right to know that it deliberately suppressed news about the arrest of one of President Johnson's top assistants at the direct request of Mr. Clark Clifford and Mr. Abe Fortis-- both close friends of President Johnson. It will be recalled that it was not until Republican National Chairman Dean Birch got wind of this development and charged the news media with suppressing legitimate news that the story was printed.

In other words, Mr. President, the people who today are charging a political coverup by the Nixon Administration were actually a part of the coverup by the Johnson Administration in the 1964 Presidential campaign.

And if memory serves me correctly, the Washington Post, which is so horrified at the possibility of political espionage, some years ago paid hundreds of dollars for information supplied by a man it thought was employed by a Senate committee headed by the late Joseph McCarthy. Apparently, where the liberal press is concerned, the end justifies the means. Because the Washington Post felt that McCarthy was the worst thing that ever happened in Congress, it apparently felt that any kind of methods, legal or illegal, were justified in obtaining confidential information. One wonders, in the light of this, why the Post is so agitated by the Watergate incident.

There is no attempt here to defend the people responsible for the Watergate affair. This is merely an attempt to draw the whole thing into better perspective in relation to the Presidential election campaign.

The argument of Senator McGovern that President Nixon's Administration is the most corrupt in the Nation's history is, of course, complete hogwash uttered by a candidate so far behind that he has become frantically superlative.

And when everything is said and done, the few incidents of alleged corruption McGovern alludes to have nothing to do with the conduct of governmental affairs which directly affect the lives of 208 million Americans, to say nothing of policies having to do with the future peace of the world. It is ridiculous on its face to suggest that President Nixon is somehow responsible for the Watergate affair. He has proven many times over that he is a completely honorable man deserving of re-election to four more years.

I believe the American people are to be congratulated on their maturity and poise in not letting the arch liberals get away with their sordid attempts to inject false issues into the Presidential campaign. The time is now past when the liberal politicians and their allies in the communications media could hoodwink the electorate into voting against its own best interests.

In this connection, I believe the liberal commentators are doing the American people a grave injustice when they claim that the refusal of the public to become as exercised as the liberals over the Watergate affair, stems from a nationwide cynicism generated by the war in Vietnam. Just the reverse is true. The American people have learned to differentiate between fact and partisan ranting.

SPANISH-SPEAKING COMMITTEE FOR THE RE-ELECTION OF THE PRESIDENT ANNOUNCED

Formation of a Spanish-speaking Committee for the Re-election of the President was announced today by Alex Amendariz, Executive Director of the Spanish-speaking Division of the Committee for the Re-election of the President.

Edward Hidalgo, noted attorney, was named chairman along with his co-chairmen, Luis Ferre, Governor of Puerto Rico; and internationally known actor Anthony Quinn.

"The national Spanish-speaking Committee for Nixon has as its objective the re-election of the President with maximum support by the Spanish-speaking constituency of our Nation. To this end, membership of the Committee was drawn from men and women of achievement and prominence in the various walks of our national life who are of Spanish ethnic origin," Mr. Amendariz said.

"Implicit in the endorsement of such recognized political activists as Anthony Quinn," he added, "is the recognition that Richard Nixon has, in the past four years, shown, not in talk but in deeds, an unprecedented recognition of the serious problems that beset large segments of our Spanish-speaking population and a determination that positive steps must and shall be taken to alleviate those problems."

Born in Mexico in 1912, Mr. Hidalgo received his B.A. from Holy Cross College, graduating magna cum laude. He earned his Juris Doctorate from the Columbia Law School and a degree in Civil Law from the National University of Mexico.

Luis Ferre, active in politics in Puerto Rico for over twenty years and a member of the Republican National Committee since 1964, is the Governor of Puerto Rico.

Born in Chihuahua, Mexico in 1916, Anthony Quinn is internationally acclaimed, both as an actor and as a political activist. He is a lifelong Democrat. Quinn received an Academy Award in 1952 for his role in "Viva Zapata" and in 1956 was selected as Best Supporting Actor for his role in "Lust for Life." Quinn is recognized as one of the foremost crusaders for civil rights and minority causes -- particularly those affecting Chicanos.

"The Committee, composed of Republicans, Democrats and Independents, manifests its confidence," Hidalgo said, "that the cause of the Spanish-speaking people of our country is in safe hands with Richard Nixon and that he will live up to his professed determination to do all in his power so that the Spanish-speaking people may play their equal part and receive their equal share in the progress of our Nation."

EXCERPTS FROM REMARKS BY CLARK MacGREGOR
PREPARED FOR DELIVERY
AT THE RECEPTION DINNER OF HERITAGE GROUPS FOR THE RE-ELECTION OF THE PRESIDENT AND THE
NATIONAL REPUBLICAN HERITAGE GROUPS COUNCIL
KEY BRIDGE MARRIOTT, ARLINGTON, VIRGINIA

On Tuesday night, Senator George McGovern offered to the Communists in Hanoi an American surrender on terms even the Communists themselves have not demanded.

Not only would he, as President, halt all military re-supply of the South Vietnamese Army, but, further, he would strip that nation of all salvageable military equipment. That course would condemn our ally to certain military defeat at the hands of the Communist enemy in the field, armed and equipped by China and the Soviet Union.

Senator McGovern's plan would, in my judgment, amount to the greatest single act of international dishonor ever committed by the United States. It would not save our soul as a nation, as the Senator suggests. It would not make Americans once again stand as a witness to the world for what is noble and just in human affairs, as the Senator has stated. Rather, that single act of betrayal would make America synonymous with shame in Asia and untrustworthiness all over the world. The Senator has called for an Asian Munich.

His hatred of the government in Saigon is not disguised. But, regardless of the Senator's sentiments, that government is a fighting ally of the United States; and not only to desert them, but to strip them of the means to defend themselves would disgrace and dishonor this nation before history and mankind.

In describing our enemy in Vietnam as simply a "tiny band of peasant guerrillas" Senator McGovern betrays an incredible ignorance of the nature of this conflict. This is not 1962; it is 1972. And the dozen North Vietnamese divisions engaged in the current enemy offensive have long-range artillery, rockets, tanks, armored vehicles, surface-to-air missiles and field weapons every bit as sophisticated as our own. They carry with them all the paraphernalia of a modern army of invasion. The air defense over the North against which American pilots have to fly is among the most technically advanced anywhere in the world.

For Senator McGovern to talk of a "tiny band of peasant guerrillas" is to show a gross failure of understanding of the character of the present Vietnam war.

Though the Senator finds tears to shed for the accidental victims of American supportive efforts -- one finds none in his speech for the deliberate victims of Communist atrocities. Though Senator McGovern can find plenty of words to castigate our role in Asia and the government in Saigon -- one finds in his speech no words of condemnation for the Communist aggressors who have initiated this war, and who are solely responsible for its continuance. There are no American armies or South Vietnamese armies north of the DMZ -- there are Communist troops in Laos, Communist troops in Cambodia and Communist troops in South Vietnam.

Senator McGovern offers this nation not a plan for peace, but a prescription for an American surrender and a certain reign of terror throughout South Vietnam. And he offers not a single guarantee -- other than Communist goodwill -- that we will ever get our prisoners of war back again.

His speech of Tuesday night was the most shameful address I have ever heard delivered by a Senator of the United States.

MEMORANDUM FOR: FRED MALEK

FROM: CHARLES COLSON

The attached might be very helpful to you, both the good news and the bad. I think Bill has very good political instincts.

Can't you do something to get the damn materials out?

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 25, 1972

MEMORANDUM FOR: Charles Colson
FROM: Bill Rhatigan WR
SUBJECT: Impressions from New Jersey

Over the weekend, as you know, I hit campaign breakfasts, luncheons, dinners, cocktail parties, and local Re-elect headquarters opening in Warren, Morris, Bergen, Passaic, Sussex, and Essex Counties. I have mixed impressions of the effort being made in New Jersey on behalf of the President. Warren County is no problem. The President carried it easily in '68 and will do so again. It is one of the least populated counties, however, and will not help us a great deal in the overall state picture. Tony Statile, the Bergen County Chairman, indicates the President's margin in Bergen should be between 70,000 and 90,000 in that county. The President's margin in Bergen in 1968 was approximately 65,000.

In Morris, which gave the President a 30,000 vote margin in 1968, the County Chairman is predicting 45,000 - 50,000.

Most importantly, I think, is Essex County (in which Newark is located). The President lost Essex County by better than 50,000 votes in 1968. Dave Goldfarb, our Re-elect Chairman in Essex, reports the distinct possibility of breaking even in Essex. If all of these predictions are accurate -- or even close -- New Jersey is ours.

The other encouraging note I saw on the trip was the activity in the Re-elect headquarters I visited. At 11:30 Saturday morning the Morris County Re-elect people had 10 volunteers manning their telephones for a telephone voter registration canvass. They also had canvassers distributing literature in the major shopping area in Morris County. They signed up 30 volunteers during the one hour I was with them.

In Bergen County, where I addressed a group of 5,000 (police estimate, not mine), there was real enthusiasm for the President.

Each Republican County Chairman I spoke with indicated his Democratic counterpart was virtually sitting on his hands as far as the national ticket is concerned.

The disturbing element of the trip has to do with the lack of supplies available to the state. Every county official and every Re-elect official I talked with complained that they were unable to provide their own people with materials because they could not get them either from the state or from national Re-elect headquarters.

It appears as if the Watergate is beginning to sink in, and is causing some problems at least in New Jersey. I did receive a number of questions not only on the Watergate, but on the Russian grain deal, the effort being to equate the two and demonstrate the Nixon Administration as one which gets involved in deals.

STATEMENT BY CLARK MacGREGOR, CAMPAIGN DIRECTOR

According to the Gallup, Harris, Sindlinger, and Yankelovich polls, the political elitist movement known as McGovernism is about to be repudiated overwhelmingly by the American people. As it should be. But, frustrated, twenty-six points behind in the polls, with three weeks to go, George McGovern -- and his confederates -- are now engaging in the "politics of desperation;" we are witnessing some of the dirtiest tactics and hearing some of the most offensive language ever to appear in an American Presidential campaign.

Lashing out wildly, George McGovern has compared the President of the United States to Adolph Hitler, the Republican Party to the Ku Klux Klan, and the United States Government to the Third Reich of Nazi Germany. His personal assaults on the President have been characterized by such terms as "most corrupt," "murderous," and "barbaric," and his running-mate has served as an echo chamber.

And the WASHINGTON POST's credibility has today sunk lower than that of George McGovern.

(more)

Using innuendo, third-person hearsay, unsubstantiated charges, anonymous sources, and huge scare headlines -- the POST has maliciously sought to give the appearance of a direct connection between the White House and the Watergate -- a charge which the POST knows -- and half a dozen investigations have found -- to be false.

The hallmark of the POST's campaign is hypocrisy -- and its celebrated "double standard" is today visible for all to see.

Unproven charges by McGovern aides, or Senator Muskie, about alleged campaign disruptions that occurred more than six months ago are invariably given treatment normally accorded declarations of war -- while proven facts of opposition-incited disruptions of the President's campaign are buried deep inside the paper. When McGovern headquarters in California was used as a boiler room to rally hard-core anti-war militants to confront the President -- that was apparently of no significance to a newspaper which has dispatched a platoon of reporters to investigate charges that somebody sent two hundred pizzas to a Muskie rally last spring.

Why hasn't the WASHINGTON POST investigated --

The Molotov cocktail discovered on October 8th at the door of the Newhall, California Nixon Headquarters?

The extensive fire damage suffered September 17th to the Nixon headquarters in Hollywood, California?

The arson of September 25th which caused more than $100,000 in damage to the Nixon headquarters in Phoenix, Arizona?

The extensive window breaking and other trashing this fall at Nixon storefronts in New York City; Arlington, Massachusetts; and Los Angeles County?

While the POST itself openly and actively collaborated in the publication of stolen top secret documents of the Government of the United States sixteen months ago -- today, it is faking shock and outrage at some obvious volunteers who were allegedly spying on Larry O'Brien.

Like George McGovern, who personally encouraged Daniel Ellsberg to commit the deed for which he faces a possible 115 years in a Federal Penitentiary -- the WASHINGTON POST is a hypocrite. While each crime is reprehensible, which is the more serious? Stealing top secret documents of the Government of the United States; or allegedly stealing Larry O'Brien's political papers?

The purpose of the POST campaign is clear: To divert public and national attention away from the real issues of this campaign -- peace, jobs, foreign policy, welfare, taxes, defense and national priorities -- and onto the phony issues manufactured on L Street and in McGovern headquarters.

It is said that this is a dirty campaign, but all the dirt is being thrown by only one side. The mud slinging, the name calling, the unsubstantiated charges, the innuendos, the guilt by association, the character assassination, the second-hand hearsay are all tactics exclusively employed by the McGovernites and their apologists. President Nixon will remain on the high road, discussing issues of real concern to the American people in a fair, forthright, and hard-hitting manner. The American people will apply a single standard in judging the performance of Richard Nixon and George McGovern, even though that essential fairness is not exhibited by the WASHINGTON POST and a few others.
