Under Secretary Johnson

6/7/71 8:20 a.m.

J: I understand from Al that you heard from your friend David.

K: Yeah, I have some cables you can look at; they're not clear to me.

J: The Post is carrying a story this morning that he reached an agreement . . .

K: On Taiwan.

J: Does he say that?

K: No, that he doesn't say. One is about shoes . . .

J: About shoes?!

K: Yeah. The other explains why he was tougher than his instructions about the P-3 thing. And the third has to do with his objection to the return of the _____ Islands.

J: His objection?

K: Well, he tends to go along with it. Why don't I send them over with a messenger and you read them and give them back?

J: Okay. These were to you?

K: One was to me; the others to Peterson. But I am going to insist that I be sent a copy of everything that goes to Peterson; this is an impossible way to do business. Why don't I send them over; it's not worth a trip . . .

J: Yes, send them over and I'll send them right back.
