MEMORANDUM

DECEMBER 18, 1968

TO: BOB McCUNE
FROM: HARRY DENT
RE INAUGURAL - NIXON FAMILY

Here is the Nixon family list as prepared for me by Don Nixon. As you can see, he has been adding names from time to time.

He is in the process of contacting these people to determine which ones definitely plan to come for the Inaugural.

You will notice, also, that he specifies certain family groupings.

Naturally, all of these people should receive the souvenir invitation and I will communicate to you further information on which ones may not be attending the Inaugural activities.

There is a memo from John Ehrlichman regarding some special tickets Bud Wilkinson desires.

I endorse Ehrlichman's memo that he sent to me on December 14th, a copy of which was sent to you. In this memo, he suggested that John Drown be given an administrative aide to help in handling the family. Based on my conversations with Don Nixon thus far, this is vital.

Subject: Inauguration Tickets

I had a conversation with Murry Chatner yesterday (December 13) on the subject of Inauguration tickets.

He has an office at the Republican National Committee in Washington (Extension 198 - secretary, Barbara Higgins).

Family List:

Murry has been developing a family list with the cooperation of Don and Ed Nixon and Rose Mary Woods. Bob McCune tells me that very shortly Jack Drown will be coming to Washington as executive vice chairman of the Inaugural Committee, and his principal assignment will be the care, feeding, and tender loving attention to the housing, transportation, seating, and other problems of the Nixon family. I have suggested to Harry Dent, and by this memorandum I suggest to Bob McCune, that Jack Drown be given an administrative aide in the accomplishment of these objectives.

I would also suggest that this aide be made primarily responsible for making sure that the family list is complete, and that it receives the attention it deserves.

Accordingly, I suggest that Rose, Murry, and Harry forward their family lists to Bob McCune at the soonest possible time, and that Bob appoint a family aide to Drown right away.

It is my understanding that Don Nixon has been preparing a list of close and intimate friends, such as Chief Newman, etc. Jack Drown's aide should be advised to contact Don to obtain this list at the soonest possible time.

For Bob McCune's and Murry's information, Harry Dent will now be officing at GSA Building #7 in Washington, D. C., in order that we have someone on the scene from the Counsel's office during these difficult days. If you have questions, don't hesitate to contact him.

Dear Richard -

If you can ever find time to read personal notes, or if someone else
reads this, you'll know how grand & optimistic we all are - I visited your Aunt Olive & Uncle Oscar last weekend & also stopped by in Riverside to see your Aunt Edith for a minute - We do like to keep in touch, tho we are out of the way a little.
Oscar that Ed Process

the correspondence or has some responsibility - I know it must be a huge task -

There are three of us who are talking of the dn-generation - Are tickets available for cousins? -
Our daughters Evelyn Van-
Norman and Martha Cato
& possibly Bill and Clare talking of it - if it's possible could you arrange them.

We are all so glad you were chosen & wish all good wishes to your family - your cousin -

Dear Rose,

Could you put Irving Swanson some place in the Inaugural Committee organization so he would be in a position to get good tickets and seats for some of our friends without difficulty? As you know, he is Secretary of the Senate Republican Policy Committee and has been right with Dick all along.

Sincerely,

George E. Mackinnon

MEMORANDUM

TO: John Ehrlichman
FROM: Rose Mary Woods

Please note the attached letter from George MacKinnon.

You might want to double check with RN, but from the sound of things no one is going to have very many tickets and possibly we should have someone at the Inaugural Committee to take care of the old Congressional type friends.

DEC 3 RECD

THE COLUMBIA LETTER

December 2, 1968

EXTRAORDINARY SOUTH CAROLINA POLITICAL HISTORY ... It is to be found in each step in the career of Senator Thurmond.

The move to Washington for a place in the White House by Harry Dent is another of those steps. Undoubtedly Senator Thurmond had a hand in this move. If he did not initiate it, he unquestionably approved it and it couldn't have been done without his approval.

This gives an extraordinary location for a South Carolinian, the former state GOP chairman. And should give Senator Thurmond an even closer association with the White House.

Thurmond made his first audacious move when he became a write-in candidate to succeed the late Senator Maybank. He won, historically, but remained a Democrat.

But there were other unconventional steps to follow. The most notable was his decision in 1964 to move his affiliation to the Republican party.

A careful planner, Thurmond didn't make this shift without the most profound considerations, and without consultations in South Carolina.

A Columbian who was present at one of the conferences the senator held with fellow South Carolinians recalls what happened. There was general agreement that, in view of his philosophy, Thurmond should make the change.

This was just prior to the Goldwater nomination and candidacy. Undoubtedly the senator hoped for a Goldwater victory. It didn't come and this was to be a disappointment.

Readily received into the Republican party, Thurmond pursued his conservative goals as relentlessly as ever, and undoubtedly felt more at home.

Meanwhile, his No. 1 assistant, Dent, moved back to South Carolina on what was to be an important mission. He was to take the helm as manager of GOP affairs and objectives in his native state.

(Thurmond was accustomed to speaking of Dent as the "smartest executive assistant" in the whole company of senatorial aides.)

Under the leadership of Dent and National Executive Committeeman Drake Edens, South Carolina was decisively carried for Goldwater.

And as time passed, the party got as many as 26 of its members elected to the General Assembly. Also, Republican mayors and city councilmen began to appear over the state--an unprecedented situation.

Dent turned out to be a tough leader. There was not always agreement with him in the party ranks, but he pursued a hard, fighting policy.

Dent was always ready to go to war with Democrats. He watched them carefully, answered almost their every attack on the new Republicans and didn't avoid being abrasive.

Just how happy or unhappy he was cannot be judged here. But his job was a rugged one. There was money-raising, for example. And getting along with the fellow ambitious Republicans with their new-found success.

The year 1968 brought a curious combination of success and setback for the state party. It managed to win the state's eight electoral votes in spite of George Wallace. But it lost all but about four of its seats in the Assembly.

Most observers attribute the legislative defeats to the emergence of the Negroes as voters in volume. And they are probably right.

But the victory of Nixon was nectar. It came after the exercise of Thurmond's great southern influence in nominating Nixon.

Thurmond seemed now in the top echelon of Nixon planning and association. He must have thought back over that decision to "turn Republican." He must have thought back with satisfaction.

And Harry Dent wasn't exactly absent. The first thing South Carolinians knew was that Thurmond and Dent were in New York, visiting the victorious Nixon.

Then came the story, somewhat prematurely as many stories do, that Dent was resigning as state chairman to accept a White House appointment from Nixon. Later came the confirmation.

The future will say how well the South Carolinians, including the GOP Congressman, Albert Watson, will get along with forthcoming Nixon and Republican policy. But even now it appears the Carolinians will have a voice of substantial resonance--and at the top.

State Republicans may have trouble in finding a new state chairman--and whoever he is may find it difficult to fill Dent's sometimes controversial but pretty big political shoes.

Honorable Charles Raper Jonas
Honorable James Broyhill
Honorable Earl H. Rauh
House of Representatives
Washington, D. C.

Dear Charlie, Jim, and Earl:

I attach copy of a newsitem out of the Memphis-Scimitar of Thursday, November 14, under a Pittsburgh headline.

Representative John M. Ashbrook, Republican of Ohio, says that he will ask Nixon to abolish the National Labor Relations Board.

I solicit your active interest in this movement.

I do not believe that any law should be enforced by a separate bureau with no right of appeal short of The Circuit Court of Appeals. The Court of Appeals has to accept the finding if there is any evidence, not even a preponderance of evidence.

The enforcement of the law should be through our regular courts. I do not think that many of the decisions and edicts handed down from Washington could have ever stood the light of day under regular court procedures.

I hope I may have the privilege of writing you again about our troubles with the Federal Trade Commission, Health-Education-Welfare, and other bureaus that have been set up in Washington. I have in mind Unemployment Insurance procedures and the dictatorial power that Secretary Wirtz is trying to put into effect before he leaves office.

With highest regards and best wishes.

Sincerely yours,

C. A. Cannon

Dear Roger:

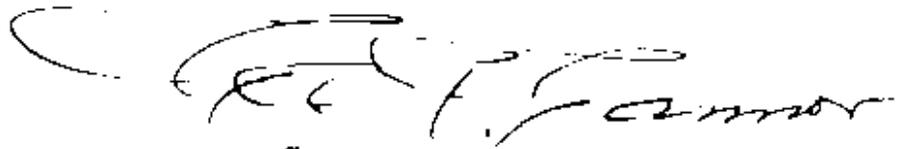

Just as a matter of information, I enclose a letter referring to Congressman Ashbrook's proposed legislation with reference to the National Labor Relations Board.

I have the first reply from Congressman Jonas, copy of which I attach.

I can think of nothing that the new Nixon Administration could do that would establish greater confidence in the mind of a lot of American citizens than to take this one of his early changes.

With best wishes.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Charlie:

This acknowledges receipt of your November 18 letter to which you attached a news item quoting John Asbbrook proposing that the NLRB be abolished.

I would like to see this Board abolished myself and will cooperate to that end. Many proposals have been advanced to create a labor-management court to handle such disputes. This Board has arrogated unto itself far too much power, and under present rules it is almost useless to appeal to the courts from the Board's decisions. This is indeed a field which deserves attention and I hope receives it early in the new Administration.

Feel free to write me on any subject whenever you have the inclination to do so. I have great respect for your opinions and judgment and always welcome your comments.

With kindest regards and best wishes, I am

Sincerely,

Dear Tom:

I don't want to cause you any difficulty, but I would appreciate your putting my name in the mill for the kind of activity with the Nixon administration I would like, which I had indicated to John Mitchell when I first met him in April of this year, and I think I probably mentioned it to you.

I have an active law practice and I am not in a position at the present time to leave it. However, I would like to devote from 10 to 15% of my time on a non-compensatory basis, to serve on any commission or commissions that are established by Mr. Nixon where I could be useful.

For reference purposes, I attach hereto a xerox copy of what it says about me in Who's Who.

I probably represent more trade and business associations than any other lawyer and also I have done alot of speaking and writing in the Federal tax and association fields.

I would like to be of service at an appropriate time and as stated, I would appreciate very much your putting my name in the mill.

Sincerely,

George D. Webster

TWE

November 29, 1968

George Webster is an excellent man. He is capable, hard-working, pleasant, and he devoted a great deal of time for many weeks to building the outstanding Lawyers for Nixon-Agnew National Committee. He has my high recommendation.

Many thanks.

Mr. Roger Milliken

Spartanburg, South Carolina 29303

Dear Roger:

Herewith is a brief statement of the advantages of Senate Joint Resolution 12 over all other proposals to change the way of electing the President by amending the Constitution. I had nothing so succinct for your express purpose. I hope it is adequate.

I have been busy gathering in the unofficial Presidential returns for recasting by Congressional Districts. It is more difficult this year than in 1960.

So far, I have collected $2,000 on this project and have a commitment for an uncertain small amount from the National Cotton Council. I was hopeful of getting some help from the American Farm Bureau Federation, The A. T. M. J. and the N. A. M. The first two are now out. And Leo Bodine at N. A. M. is recuperating from surgery.

The 1968 election is of tremendous significance. For the first time since Reconstruction (1876) the Republicans have elected a President without New York. And, more to the good, without Pennsylvania and Michigan. This shifts the center of political gravity southwestward. If S. J. Res 12 can be added to the Constitution before 1972, the center of political gravity can be stabilized at about southern Illinois.

To get that done we must move on every front: In Congress for S. J. Res. 12, and against the direct election backed by the American Bar Association and the national Chamber of Commerce; in the State Legislatures for a Constitutional Convention to propose an Amendment, put heat on Congress and prepare them for quick ratifications, and to set them against the direct election; in the Courts to win a decision or, on losing, demonstrate that a Constitutional Amendment is the only route that can be taken; and finally, try by Act of Congress to put the choice of one Elector in each Congressional District. All of these efforts will complement each other and add to the momentum necessary to final action and success.

Senator Mundt has promised to give a strong lead in the new Congress. But what is needed above all is top leadership from the business community to get the work financed. If such leadership can be mobilized soon we ought to have some kind of activity early in the next Administration. The American Bar Association has already announced a meeting in support of the direct election.

The time is riper now for things to be done than at any time I have known.

Sincerely,

J. Harvie Williams

REFORM OF THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE

Advantages of Senate Joint Resolution 12 Shown

Senate Joint Resolution 12 proposes to amend the Constitution so as to require election in single-member districts of the representative members of the Electoral College who are apportioned with Representatives in Congress to the People of America in their respective States; and to require the statewide election of the two senatorial Electors who are assigned with United States Senators to each State as a body politic.

These proposed changes stand foursquare with the nature and structure of the Constitution which is based on States and People. These changes would abolish the statewide election by general ticket of all Electors, and establish a uniform system as the source and elective foundation of the Executive Power.

In the event of a contingent election, when no person has a majority of the Electors, S. J. Res. 12 would require a joint session of Congress, voting by the head, to choose the President and Vice President from among the persons having the three highest numbers of votes of the Electors. On a fifth ballot the choice would be limited to the two persons having the most votes on the fourth ballot. This provision simply extends the basis of States and People to a contingent election of President and Vice President.

Senate Joint Resolution 12 is the only Constitutional Amendment proposed in the Senate in each Congress since 1952 that would "reform" the Electoral College. All other proposals, save one by retiring Senator Gruening, would "abolish the institution.

Briefly, the advantages of S. J. Res. 12 over all other proposed Amendments are:

1. It will do all that needs to be done without affecting any other part of the Constitution;

2. By continuing the office of Elector of President and Vice President the elections will continue within the several States, under their own election laws, without any intervention by Congress. No other proposal permits this.
3. As a party man and an officer of the Constitution the Elector is the vital link between the Constitution and the legal parties of the States. These State parties, in turn, voluntarily associate themselves in lawful but extra-legal national parties. By keeping the Elector S. J. Res. 12 avoids freezing the party apparatus into the Constitution or putting under control of Congress. No other proposal does this.
4. S. J. Res. 12 maintains the majority requirement for the election of the President, in the Electoral College and in a contingent election by Congress. It thus maintains the tap root of the two-party system, there being no room for a continuing third-party thereunder. No other proposal does this.
5. Under S. J. Res 12 a fraud upon the ballot box could affect no more than three Electors (one district Elector and two at-large). Fraud would be localized and equalized at the minimum value. (The present general ticket system magnifies the value of fraud and puts up a premium on it according to the varying size of the States. A national popular vote system nationalizes fraud, utilizing every fraction of it that can be made available). No other proposal does this.
6. S. J. Res 12 would conform the President's constituency to the constituency of Congress, reconciling the sources the sources of Executive and Legislative Powers as the Constitution separately establishes them on the same foundation -- States and People. No other proposal does this.

The statewide general ticket system for the election of Electors is the product of the State Legislatures. It is not required by the Constitution. S. J. Res 12 would supersede the actions of the Legislatures with a uniform State-District system that was often used in several States in the early days of the Republic.

Mr. Martin R. Pollner
Executive Director
Richard Nixon's Advisory Council
on Crime and Law Enforcement
450 Park Avenue
New York, New York 10022

Dear Mr. Pollner:

In accordance with Malcolm Wilkey's suggestion, attached is a draft of a letter to Mr. Palmer which Mr. Nixon may wish to use.

The list of possible Directors is currently under review by a cross-section of the men and women who have been working closely with Mr. Palmer. The objective, of course, is to provide a proper balance of business, ethnic, religious, labor, conservative and liberal elements, etc.

With warm thanks for your continuing interest.

Cordially,

Fred Rudge

Mr. H. Bruce Palmer, President
National Industrial Conference Board, Inc.
845 Third Avenue
New York, New York 10022

Dear Bruce:

Your plan to mobilize the private sector through Citizens for Justice With Order is wholly consistent with my thinking about alleviating our nation's number one internal problem - crime. I regret that in this transition period I cannot participate personally in your announcement of the organization's formation.

However, I want to let you know you have my whole-hearted support for an effort which is truly in the nation's interests. I have reviewed the list of distinguished citizens you will ask to become Directors of Citizens for Justice With Order. I hope they will agree to serve, as the situation demands their kind of leadership.

My staff will maintain close liaison with you as to plans for government-private sector cooperation subsequent to January 20.

Cordially yours,

Dear Miss Woods:

I hope you will pardon my intrusion on your very busy life and

Congratulations on your very responsible and interesting appointment. The Phila Inquirer Mon NOV 11 and the Evening Bulletin gave you very fine coverage.

Since I am a ham Genealogist,
the name always fascinates me.
I have made a fair collection

I belong to what we refer to as the Michael Woods Clan. WITH ADMIRAL
VERNON AT CARTAGENA

Michael and some of his brothers and children came to Pa. in 1720 from West Meath (just So. of Carin) in Ireland. They were Scotch Irish Presbyterian.

In 1732 he and a part of the clan moved to Albemarle Co., Virginia where they were very active in the Revolution.

I belong to S.A.R. thru Joe Woods 70a. Sgt.
Continental line. They were a Co of Scotch Irish Riflemen.

From Va., they farmed out to the four kinds.

Seems the clan has away of getting involved. Some have graduated from West Point and Annapolis. Some have been U.S. Marshalls, Police Chiefs and most just ordinary citizens.

My Grandfather Eliza T. Woods, was Capt of Co., A. 131st Illinois
Volunteers with Grant at Vicksburg.
Col Jas. Woods who founded Winchester,
Va. and his nephew Thomas taught young George Washington Swordmanship.
Francis Scott Key was a part of

As you can see, we have a pretty good state in this land ours and don't plan give it up to anybody.

To quote Cromwell, "Put your trust in God and keep your gunpowder dry."
Tom Paine "These are times that try

I met with a Friday Luncheon Club
Conservative and at our last meeting we were contempting the result of our victory with Ch. Nixon. incidentally your name is a familiar one to us.

First let me say the Republican Party in Ohio is defunct. In Delaware
Co., where I reside we are very strong.
They tried to play with the Devil's Belly goat all year and ride the Lords White horse on Sunday and it doesn't work.

We have formed a Committee of

MEMORANDUM

TO: HON. ROBERT H. FINCH

FROM: HARRY S. DENT, DEPUTY COUNSEL

Enclosed is a self-explanatory letter from Dr. Guy L. Varn, a gentleman who is considered to be very liberal and progressive in his attitudes toward education and the race question. As I have mentioned previously, this is the most vital subject facing the South. Anything you can do to restore funds which have been deferred to schools where there is no discrimination would be very much help throughout the South.

These are my own views.

The reappointment of Ruby Martin as Civil Rights Compliance Officer in HEN would be politically speaking a big red flag to the South and to those expecting some changes.

RICHLAND COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT ONE

COLUMBIA PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Administration Offices

1616 RICHLAND STREET • COLUMBIA, S. C. 29201

GUY L. VARN, SUPERINTENDENT

January 3, 1969

Mr. Harry Dent
Deputy Commissioner
to President-elect
Federal Building No. 7
726 Jackson Place, N. W.
Washington, D. C.

Dear Harry:

I am enclosing a copy of Charlie Knowlton's letter of December 18 to Senator Strom Thurmond.

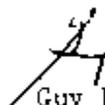

As I told you over the telephone, this district is currently losing an estimated $200,000 in federal funds due to being placed on "deferral status" by H. E. W. The amount of money lost for this fiscal year could be as high as $300,000 due to later reallocation of funds not used on a matching basis by other school districts.

This action of H. E. W. is grossly unfair, in that there are hundreds of school districts over the nation less integrated than this district.

It is our sincere hope that the Nixon Administration will act promptly to relieve situations such as ours pending further investigation of compliance efforts over the country. We would welcome a study of this district made by a group of professionals who know something about public education.

We will greatly appreciate your efforts in our behalf. Along with hundreds of other school people, I supported Mr. Nixon in the belief that he would be able to give us some relief.

Yours sincerely,

Guy L. Varn

Re: Richland County School District No. 1

Dear Senator Thurmond:

I am sure that from many sources you are somewhat familiar with the problems of this School District and its attempt to resolve its difficulties with H. E. W. The purpose of this letter is to acquaint you with our present status and inquire whether you think there is any relief to be obtained from the new administration in Washington.

We are mindful, although some segments of the public are not, that a new administration does not bring with it any change in the legal framework and that we will still be governed by existing Supreme Court decisions and the Civil Rights Act of 1964. We will probably also continue to deal with the same civil servants on the staff, which is where the major difficulty actually is. While these are conscientious individuals, they tend to over-interpret their authority, make demands which are impractical to implement and evidently give no consideration to the fact that this District, unlike some, has always endeavored to comply with the law.

We are presently operating the schools on a plan which is largely freedom of choice, but also has some elements of zoning. It was proposed by us to the Department last May as an attempted compromise. It results in more than 19% of the Negro students attending integrated schools. In excess of 85% of the white students attend schools which have some degree of integration. Prior to this year, we have been operating under a pure freedom of choice plan which had been agreed to by H. E. W. Under that plan last year approximately 10% of the Negro students attended integrated schools. We have approximately 120 teachers teaching across racial lines; that is, schools in which the teacher is a minority race. This latter has been accomplished without any compulsory assignments of teachers. The Department has never accused us of bad faith, harassment or pressure to keep Negro students out of integrated schools.

After the Supreme Court decision in the New Kent County case, it appeared that we would have to agree to a more drastic plan in order to avoid the loss of Two Million Dollars in continuing federal funds and to achieve a compliance status. We have never admitted that we were not in compliance and we have always taken the position that the status of federal funds was governed by compliance with the Civil Rights Act and not necessarily Constitutional requirements of the New Kent County case.

This District has never sought to evade the law, but we do believe that it is better educationally to let integration proceed in stages to which community opinion can adapt more easily as we go along.

H. E. W. has never required cross-town bussing to achieve integration, despite some public gossip to the contrary. It has demanded zoning to achieve racial balance and the pairing of some schools. It also vigorously attacks the existence of all-Negro schools as such. This is where we have our greatest difficulty in our negotiations. We did close two all-Negro schools this year. One was a remote little country school which was too small to be accredited and the other was considered to be an inadequate physical facility, now obsolete.

We have an administrative hearing pending for January 29th. An adverse ruling could be submitted for Departmental review by the new Secretary. We can also petition for review by the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals.

You may recall that in late August we were enjoined from implementing H. E. W.'s proposals by the District Court but this has now been reversed by the Court of Appeals on jurisdictional grounds.

If you believe that anything could be accomplished by yours or our conferring with any of the new faces at the top level of the Department prior to our administrative hearing, we would like to explore the possibility. Possibly the new Secretary might wish to postpone our hearing while he looks into it. We would not like an indefinite postponement because, if there is to be a change in the operation of the schools next year, we would like to have time to develop the plan, publicize it, and avoid the last-minute turmoil that we had last summer.

There is another matter which causes concern and some uneasiness. While our so-called continuing funds have not been cut off, since we are on so-called deferred status, we have not been permitted to apply for any new projects. In this category we have already missed $200,000 in funds for new projects, including, for example, funds for the equipment of a new science building at Draper High School. Draper is essentially integrated and Negroes, therefore, are deprived as much as whites on this facility. The intervention of the Reversal Court was sought by white parents and not by the School District and under the circumstances it seems unfair to disqualify us from these new projects.

I regret the length of this letter, but it is impossible to summarize our situation in a few words. What I am asking basically is whether there is any relief in sight for a District which has achieved one of the highest degrees of integration of any Southern school district by voluntary action and has never even been accused of attempting to evade any of its legal responsibilities.

Yours very truly,

Charles W. Knowlton

DRAFT OF LETTER TO SECRETARY-DESIGNATE ROBERT H. FINCH, DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION AND WELFARE
PIERRE HOTEL
61st Street and Fifth Avenue
NEW YORK, NEW YORK

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I enjoyed very much your appearance and remarks before the Senate Republican Policy Committee luncheon earlier this week. I wanted to talk with you briefly but there was no opportunity to do so. I did mention to Bryce Harlow the main thrust of the remarks I wanted to pass on to you.

Since that time I have read in the newspapers that you are seeking the views of Members of Congress on the subject of education and the anti-discrimination guidelines promulgated by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

This is a most sensitive and important subject, particularly in the South. Most of the people in the South feel that the current Administration has gone too far and has been most unreasonable and unfair in drawing up and implementing its guidelines. They do not expect a return to segregation, but they do expect a return to reason, under your leadership and that of the President-elect. True freedom of choice, which means strictly enforced freedom of choice without discrimination, is the fair and best way to handle this matter, and is basically the idea set forth by the President-elect in the campaign.

In all the campaigning done by me and through the Thurmond Speaks Committee in the South, the President-elect's position as stated by him in Charlotte, North Carolina, Anaheim, California, and before a meeting of UPI editors in Washington, was clearly set forth to the people, and many of them cast their votes on the basis of these statements. Before any of these statements were presented to the public by me or the Thurmond Speaks Committee, they were carefully screened by the New York office to assure that we were not embellishing upon his remarks or distorting the meaning in any way.

In essence, the President-elect stated that education should come first, that true freedom of choice without discrimination should be the order of the day, that he was opposed to forced bussing in any form, that he would be most reluctant to withhold funds or to use this authority in a threatening manner, and that local school boards should be permitted to run their own schools.

Attached is the Nixon Victory Flyer which was approved by the New York office and which was distributed across the South, some 3 million copies having been printed. You will find in this flyer a key quote from Mr. Nixon's Charlotte statement.

I call all this to your attention because the course which is set in this Administration on this subject will be crucial to all of us from a political standpoint, including this Administration.

I welcome your appointment to this position of great responsibility. I will support your confirmation to the fullest extent, and look forward to working with you toward a very successful Administration and re-election in 1972.

With best wishes,

ST

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

Charles deGravelles, State Chairman in Louisiana, is very encouraged that he may have a good switchover prospect to run for Governor in 1972. He is Senator A. C. Clemons, a ten-year veteran of the Louisiana State Senate. deGravelles seems to be very certain of the switchover and, even trying to be cautious, is very optimistic about the strength this man will have in the 1972 race. This is the only Democratic officeholder who came out for the Nixon-Agnew ticket in 1968.

Regarding switchovers in the South, we may be able to pick up more, but prospects for getting Members of Congress to switch depend very strongly on whether the seniority rule is maintained. The gentleman from Virginia has shown Chairman Morton no indication of switching. Instead he seems to have made an arrangement with Battle. Congressman Joe Wiggoner of Louisiana is the friendliest Southern Democrat we have in the Congress. When he returns I will have a good conversation with him about this subject.

It might be of some interest to get from the National Committee, if it is available, or the Congressional Committee, what the polls in Montana and Massachusetts and those districts showed with regard to RN popularity as compared with the results in the election. If the weight is on our side, it might be well to get this in a column.

Dear Mr. Hagen:

I have been very pleased to learn that you and Mr. Henry Heyl, President of the National League of Postmasters, will be meeting together with your leadership in Washington just prior to and during the Inaugural activities.

We would like very much for you to attend any of the Inaugural activities which may be of interest to you and hope you will also be able to visit with me in the White House if you are still in Washington after January 20th.

I look forward to meeting with you and your leadership to discuss matters of mutual interest.

Dear Glenn:

Knowing of your current activities, I thought it might be helpful for you to have this information. I am writing essentially as Public Relations Counsel to the National League of Postmasters, but also as an interested and active Republican.

I attended the League's recent convention in Las Vegas, and have had a number of meetings with the officers since then. The organization is an active one and is well run and effective. The two men most responsible for this are Henry Heyl and William Hagen.

As President of the League, Heyl has restored integrity to the office and has given it a sense of direction. He is completely honest, has a charming and capable wife, and handles himself well in public. To my knowledge, he is the only Republican president of a postal organization.

Bill Hagen is mainly responsible for the change in operation of the League. As chairman of the Constitution and Bylaws Committee, he effected many needed reforms. As Platform Chairman of the recent convention, he exhibited an excellent sense of organization and an effective speaking ability. He currently serves as administrative assistant to the president, and is extremely active in shaping the activities of the League. Bill has been an active Republican in Calhoun County, Illinois, where he is Postmaster of Golden Eagle, and runs a farm. He can be counted on for excellent and meaningful advice on both Post Office and farm matters.

I do not know anything significant about the other officers of the League, but Heyl and Hagen are the two chief Republicans and the brains of the operation. We will probably be taking over the League's National Magazine, "The Postmasters Advocate" and look forward to a quick change in the political flavor of this publication.

While on the subject of Postmasters, a meaningful source of assistance can be had from St. Louis Postmaster Claude Bakewell. As a former Congressman, he has remained a strong behind-the-scenes supporter of Republican causes and is extremely well thought of by the entire community. He is not seeking further appointment, but would be an excellent source of information.

A person who is seeking office here is Bruce B. Selkirk. Tom Curtis may have already spoken to Brice Harlow about it. Bruce is being promoted by a number of influential people here as Secretary of the Navy. From what I know of his background, he merits consideration. He was an officer on the U.S.S. Lexington for 5 years and received the Presidential Citation. As president of Midwest Curtain Company, he operates a substantial business of over 200 employees and has excellent organizational ability. He recently sponsored the appearance of the national "Up With People" group at all St. Louis highschools.

If additional information would be helpful, please give me a call. Our firm is currently enjoying special recognition for Jack Danforth's campaign, and if there's anything we can do for the President, don't hesitate to call.

NIXON HEADQUARTERS

Dear Mr. Olds:

In reference to our phone conversation, I am sending the following comments:

The National League of Postmasters was founded in 1904 by a Republican, Mr. Oscar Pogue of Texas. Its chief function then and still is today, to provide contact between the government and its postal employees. Some of the direct benefits of this organization are: its Health Insurance Plan, Life Insurance Plan, Postal Advocate, Communication with the Department, and the dissemination of Postal Directives through the News Flash, bringing together all Postmasters at an Annual Convention at which the Post Office Department can talk directly to Postmasters, and holding an Annual MidWinter Washington Conference at which all State Officers of the Postmasters Organizations come into Washington to train for field service. Today the National League of Postmasters is headed by Mr. Henry Hayl of Wooster, Ohio. To my knowledge this is the only union organization in Washington D. C. with a Republican President.

The National League of Postmasters is interested in helping the President in Postal matters. We anticipated the election of President Nixon and at our Convention in Las Vegas, October 4, elected Republican President Henry Hayl. Mr. Hayl and I want to individually become acquainted with the Nixon Administration and eagerly await the prospect of bringing the League into influence regarding postal affairs.

We must begin immediately to correct the unbalance of Democrat government employees. I believe we can derive great influence within the merit system if we will listen to the requests of the various organizations and then give them the assistance to work out their problems themselves, instead of doing like the last administration of trying to solve the government employees' problems from within a Washington Office.

Employee Union Officers are subject to the confidence of their members; however, they carry extreme weight in shaping this direction. I can remember of no single meeting of all Postal Union Officers, collectively assembled, to talk and discuss these men's problems. The time has come to unite our government employees into a more patriotic group.

I recommend first a meeting of all union officers, stressing the beginning of a new approach to government employees. Second, this Administration should arouse these officers to relay this new approach to their members, fermenting in them a pride and patriotic feeling conducive to the employment they have. The most valuable asset to this or any Administration in my judgment is to establish pride and patriotism along with enthusiasm in the work of its employees.

Again, Mr. Heyl, I, and the National League of Postmasters offer ourselves and our resources to this Administration and President Nixon as beginning of our suggestion of a new approach to government employees. The League is reorganizing under the very capable hands of Mr. Heyl and will in the process of change probably appoint the Public Relations Firm of Stemmler, Burtram, Fisher, & Payne Inc. of St. Louis, a prominent Republican Firm, to edit our monthly magazine, the Advocate. Along with this I have scheduled the appointment of 15 Regional editors, one from each Region, who will be readily available to the Regional Director and a direct contact by us in behalf of this Administration.

I am enclosing a resume of myself. If Mr. Heyl or I can be of any assistance, please do not hesitate to call.

Sincerely,

W. G. Hagen Jr.

SUBJECT: National League of Postmasters as broad base for building public support

Whatever may be decided concerning reorganization of the Post Office Department, the postal service and its personnel represent an important "grassroots" network of influence. The National League of Postmasters has just elected a Republican, Henry Heyl of Wooster, Ohio, as President. His administrative assistant and their director of public relations who edits their publication, which is sent to 722,000 employees, have both talked to me and written of their desire to be helpful.

In line with your statements to strengthen the pride and competence of career government employees, you might wish to have whoever will be working in this area pursue this invitation to cooperate. They provide a ready made vehicle and channel of communication to one level of influence in every community in America.

MEMORANDUM FOR

THE PRESIDENT

SUBJECT: Meeting with the Executive Committee of the Republican Governors Association

Ray Shafer, the new Chairman of the RGA, called today to request that the President meet with the Executive Committee of the RGA at least four times in 1970. He told the RGA meeting in Hot Springs that the President had indicated to him this would be done. He requests that the first meeting be set as close as possible to the winter meeting of the National Governors Conference to be held in Washington February 25-27.

Here are the new officers and members of the Executive Committee: Ray Shafer, Chairman; Louie Nunn, Vice Chairman; Richard Ogilvie, Campaign Chairman; Dan Evans, Policy Chairman; Stan Hathaway, Member; Norbert Tiemann, Member; and Russell Peterson, Member.

If the President does plan to meet with the Executive Committee four times during the year, then I recommend that at least one or two of these meetings be attended by all members of the RGA because prime governors such as Rockefeller of New York and Reagan of California are not members of the Executive Committee.

Letters of congratulations to Shafer and Nunn have already been prepared for the President's signature. If there are no objections, letters of congratulations will also be prepared for Hathaway, Tiemann, Peterson and Ogilvie and Evans.

Dear Mr. President:

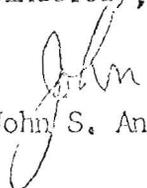

Last Friday Harry Dent met privately with the Republican State Chairmen's Advisory Committee to review with us certain plans in regard to the 1970 campaign.

I just wanted to report to you that Harry did an outstanding job. He was on his feet for more than an hour speaking and handling questions in a forthright and effective manner. After he left the more than forty State Chairmen present were high in their praise of the job he did.

I expect I don't need to tell you that Harry is a mighty good man--but I did want to report to you that others think so too.

With best regards.
